3rd Edition

3rd Edition

Compendium of Dermatology for Examinations

Salient Features

- A comprehensive and concise summary of salient topics and short and long cases asked in MD and Board examinations, based on the famous five textbooks: Rook, Bologna, Hastings, Jopling and Holmes.
- The 3rd edition has in addition multiple speciality books as sources apart from 13 journals from which updated literature has been added.
- Elaborate flowcharts, concise tables and hand-drawn artist's diagrams.
- Ideal for practical and theory examinations in India.
- Covers most long cases, spotters and theory questions.

What's new in the 3rd edition

- Updated text sourced from latest research articles and treatment guidelines published in high impact factor dermatology journals.
- Fundamentals of dermatology added including skin structure and function and immunodermatology.
- Numerous speciality books added as a reference source.
- New chapters added on acne vulgaris, atopic dermatitis, and adverse drug reactions.
- Existing chapters extensively updated and additional topics relevant to examinations added.
- Labelled dermoscopic and trichoscopic images added.
- More clinical images for better visualization of the dermatoses.
- Dermatopathology basics and images of histopathological patterns added for ease of understanding.

Hard-core succinct summary of existent knowledge, to be learnt, assimilated and used by the reader in conjunction with conventional hospital-based patient learning.

Editors

Kabir Sardana MD, DNB, MNAMS is currently Director-Professor and Head, Department of Dermatology and STDs, ABVIMS and Dr RML Hospital, New Delhi. He was previously a Professor at Maulana Azad Medical College (MAMC), New Delhi, from 2006–2016 and Assistant Professor at Chacha Nehru Bal Chikitsalya from 2005–06. He is an alumnus of MAMC (1991–96) and completed his MD from Lady Hardinge Medical College in 2000. He is a DNB holder and a member of the National Academy Medical Sciences. He began writing on common diseases and then books for MBBS and MD students. His focus is to simplify complex text with images and artist drawn diagrams, to enable readers to grasp complex topics. He has more than 280 papers on PubMed with a focus on infectious diseases, systemic drugs, acne & Immunopathogenesis of dermatological disorders. Some of his books include Lasers and Energy Devices in Aesthetic Practice, Handbook of Pigmentary Disorders for Practitioners, Clinical Approach to Acne Vulgaris, Handbook of Eczema for Practitioners, Systemic Drugs in Dermatology, Regional Atlas of Dermatology for Practitioners, IADVL Manual on Management of Dermatophytoses and Textbook of Dermatology and Sexually Transmitted Diseases with HIV Infections. He is also the editor of Jopling's Handbook of Leprosy, 8th edn.

Surabhi Sinha MD, DNB, MNAMS is Assistant Professor, Department of Dermatology and STD, LHMC and associated hospitals, New Delhi. She was previously specialist and Professor at ABVIMS and Dr RML Hospital, Delhi. She did her MBBS and MD from Maulana Azad Medical College, New Delhi. She is the recipient of Dr VN Sehgal gold medal (MD) and Dr AS Thambiah gold medal (DNB). She is Deputy Editor of Pigment International, the official journal of the Pigmentary Disorders Society of India. She has been Joint Secretary, IADVL, Delhi branch, for the year 2018. She is also Treasurer for Pigmentary Disorders Society. She is the Co-Editor of the books: Skin Diseases in Females, The Sensitive Skin: Understanding it, Treatment Modalities and Cosmeceuticals, and World Clinics Dermatology: Fungal Infections—Topical Treatments, and has authored more than 50 publications in national and international journals. Her areas of clinical interest are pigmentary disorders and cutaneous infections.
